A first impression

This well-kept two-family house, originally built in 1936, with its spacious plot of around 745 m², is part of the historic and sought-after Nordpark estate in Stockum. The house was extended in 1961 and 1975 and now offers a living space of approx. 211 m², divided into two units, each with its own entrance. In addition, there is a comfortably developed and daylighted basement area of around 49 m², which also has its own access. As a result, this property offers you a wide range of options after a creative refurbishment. For example, it could be used as a single-family home, a combination of living and working or multi-generational living. Part-letting would be another alternative. The house, which is architecturally interesting in a U-shape facing the garden, comprises a total of seven rooms, including five bedrooms and three bathrooms. A house-wide terrace overlooking the spacious garden and a balcony offer opportunities to relax and enjoy the greenery. A massive conservatory built in 1977 next to the terrace offers further space to relax. On the first floor there are five rooms, the kitchen, a bathroom and a guest WC. After entering the left entrance to the house, you will find the office on the left, two bedrooms on the right and straight ahead through the dining area past the kitchen to the spacious living room. This leads to the large bedroom and past a brick-built fireplace to the terrace. After the entrance hall, the right-hand entrance door leads directly via a staircase to the second floor, where the granny apartment with two rooms is located. Here you will find a bedroom, a shower room, a kitchen and the spacious living room with direct access to the balcony with a view of the Nordpark. The house has a partial basement with several cellar rooms, whereby the two larger rooms and the bathroom below the part of the building extended in 1975 have large slope windows and are ideally suited as fitness or hobby rooms. A garage with an electric door and a parking space in front of it is located directly next to the house. You also have direct access to the garden via the garage. This property offers you the opportunity to realize your own ideas and design the house according to your wishes. With a successful modernization, this house will become a comfortable home for you and your family in an exposed and sought-after location. Feel free to contact us to arrange a viewing appointment and find out more about the potential of this property. We will be happy to provide you with further information and look forward to hearing from you.
