This charming detached house in Berlin-Karow extends over a living space of approx. 108.02 m<sup>2</sup> and offers an ideal home for both families and multi-generational households. The spacious plot of 735 m<sup>2</sup> provides ample space for children to play and for adults to relax outdoors, while the possibilities for individual garden or leisure design are almost unlimited. Originally built in 1938, the house was extensively modernized in 1998. This included extending the attic, installing new dormers and optimizing the energy efficiency of the roof. The spacious terrace at the rear of the house is ideal for spending relaxing hours outdoors, whether it's enjoying breakfast together in the sunshine or a cozy dinner in the open air. In addition to a practical garage, there is also a cellar that offers additional storage space and a variety of possible uses. A special highlight of this property are the charming tiled stoves, which not only provide cozy warmth, but also give the house a unique, cozy character. This handyman-friendly property is ideal for creative and committed people who would like to contribute their own ideas and visions to the design of their future home.
