A first impression

Located on the border of the very popular districts of Merl and Belair, this mansion is the ideal project for a family wishing to settle in this prestigious district while creating the dream house with the charms of yesteryear. Built around 1930, this building retains the charm of the materials used at that time and just needs to be modernized for the rest. Built on 3 levels above ground, this house currently has 7 bedrooms and 2 bathrooms in parts of the living areas on the ground floor. It is also possible to transform this residence into apartments at the rate of one unit per floor. Do not hesitate to contact your Von Poll Luxembourg agency for more information.

All about the location

Located in the southwest of the city of Luxembourg, the districts of Merl and Belair are very green residential areas, ideal for families. Close to the international school and the music conservatory, the highway is also easily accessible to reach the airport or any other destination. The urban development of the Merl district has created many shops including a Cactus supermarket and a dry cleaner in the vicinity.
