A first impression

Located in the quiet countryside of Sarego, this charming farmhouse represents an opportunity for those who want to live immersed in nature without sacrificing the convenience of nearby services. The property offers privacy and large outdoor spaces and is spread over two floors, plus an attic with large volumes. The brick arches, exposed beams and original rustic details preserve the historic charm of the building, making it a rare example of Veneto farmhouse architecture. The building, to be completely renovated, stands out for its generous volumes that allow multiple possibilities of use: ideal to create one large stately home or two independent family units, perfect for those who wish to share the green spaces and the porch for moments of relaxation or conviviality. In the basement are wonderful cellars that evoke an atmosphere of yesteryear, with great potential for those who dream of creating a wine cellar, tasting space or simply a unique storage area. A large garden surrounds the villa, providing space to create a garden, swimming pool or other outdoor facilities.
