A first impression

The Farmhouse Villa Project is set in an exclusive and unspoiled context, in the heart of the Costa Smeralda, precisely in Arzachena, locality Riolta. Immersed in a breathtaking landscape, the villa is surrounded by the typical colors and scents of the Mediterranean scrub, where the sun, the sea and the tranquility come together to create a corner of pure serenity. The location guarantees maximum privacy and confidentiality, making it the ideal home for those seeking a retreat away from the chaos of everyday life, but with all the comforts and beauty that only Sardinia can offer. The architectural design is inspired by Sardinian tradition, with spacious interiors and a rustic design that blends perfectly with the surrounding natural environment. Particular attention was paid to the creation of large windows that connect the interior of the villa to the outdoor garden, creating a continuum between indoor and outdoor spaces. The veranda with dining area, designed to become a comfortable lounge, is ideal for spending convivial moments in the open air. Outside, granite walls typical of the area, wrought iron details and corners with antiqued tiles complete the design, making the villa a perfect fusion of tradition and modernity. The land surrounding the villa is rich in Mediterranean plants and offers an authentic atmosphere, perfect for those who love nature and tranquility. In addition, the villa is a short distance from the exclusive Yacht Club Costa Smeralda, one of the most modern and prestigious facilities in the area, which offers top-notch amenities, including a rooftop terrace with swimming pool, indoor and outdoor restaurants, a bar, lounge, and spa. The venue also houses 24 luxury suites, including a Presidential Suite opened in 2016, rounding out the range of comfort and luxury on the beautiful Costa Smeralda.
