All about the location

Molinar is a charming neighborhood that stretches along the coast east of Palma de Mallorca. It is particularly popular for its relaxed, authentic atmosphere, which offers a successful mix of traditional fishing village and trendy residential area. Its proximity to the sea lends it a Mediterranean flair, which is lined by a picturesque promenade lined with cozy cafés, restaurants and small stores. Molinar is part of the larger municipality of Palma and in recent years has become a sought-after residential area for families, expats and people who appreciate life by the sea. Despite its popularity, it retains its authentic charm, which is emphasized by the traditional fishing boats and narrow streets. The population of Molinar is around 6,000 people, which gives the district a manageable and familiar size. At the same time, its proximity to the island's capital offers numerous amenities. Molinar is only around 5 km from Palma's city center, which provides quick access to the cultural and economic centers of the city. The airport can also be reached quickly at a distance of around 8 km, making the district particularly attractive for international commuters or frequent travelers. There are several schools in the area, including international institutions and local educational facilities. The neighborhood also has a lot to offer in terms of sports, with numerous opportunities for water sports, jogging or cycling along the coastal promenade. Molinar combines the best of both worlds in a wonderful way: the tranquillity and flair of a fishing village with the immediate proximity to Palma and all the advantages of a big city.
