All about the location

Anyone who has ever made the journey towards Albisano will understand that Albisano rightly bears its name as the 'Balcony of Lake Garda'. The small village of Albisano is about five kilometers from the municipality of Torri del Benaco, to which this idyllic place belongs. A historical center that is worth seeing. A special feature of this village is the small center with historical flair, which houses the tiny marketplace and a cozy café. Vis-à-vis this market place is the small chapel of Albisano, which attracts attention with many artistic details on the outside and inside. Moreover, it is extremely relaxing to watch the small stream next to the chapel, which springs from the mountains and runs its course all the way to Lake Garda. Albisano: The balcony of Lake Garda. However, the real flagship of Albisano are the viewpoints that offer unspoiled views of southern and central Lake Garda. The Italian poet Gabriele D'Annunzio already enjoyed these views in the 19th and 20th centuries and gave Albisano the apt nickname 'Balcony of Garda'. In fact, the church square located behind the parish church of Albisano is reminiscent of a terrace or balcony in maxi format, surrounded by shade trees. This ambience alone guarantees a feeling of well-being that vacationers will still be reveling in weeks later. But even more impressive is the view from these balconies and terraces, which in good weather reaches as far as Torri del Benaco. When the sun shines over Albisano, it is simply thrilling to take in large parts of Lake Garda. Because this sight exerts an unspeakable magic not only on nature lovers.
