A first impression

"Casa Busi," named after the last owner Don Busi, who lovingly preserved this portion of an old Benedictine convent from the 1200s and adapted it as his own home. The interest is particularly important because of the historicity and beauty of the property, as evidenced by the many newspaper articles about it over the years. Painters, in addition to Don Busi himself, have painted it into unique pictures depicting the farmhouse in its heyday. On the second floor one can admire the elegant loggia with three barrel vaults and Tuscan columns. The interior features fine artistic structures and remnants of paintings and frescoes dating back to the 15th century. Loggias and large vaulted rooms contribute to the uniqueness of this structure attributable to the 13th century, although additions from later periods appear evident. The current conformation is in fact the result of successive demolitions and alterations that affected at least one wing of the convent. On the ground floor, a large portico opens onto the central courtyard bordered by a wall, which was probably once an integral part of the building. The complex is surrounded by walls whose appearance is similar to that of the main body. A conservative restoration will help bring current use of a piece of history.

All about the location

Brief history. The name Salò has no clear derivation. Some sources trace it to the name of an Etruscan queen, Salodia; others connect it to a lucumon named Saloo; still others to the Latin term "salodium," which indicated the halls and rooms with which the lakeside villas of Roman times were rich. This town became famous in 1943 when the Italian Social Republic, also known as the Republic of Salò, was founded here. The Foreign Ministry office that issued the Republic's press releases was located here, even though formally the capital was Rome. Location and climate The municipality of Salò, overlooking the gulf of the same name on Lake Garda, is enclosed to the west and south by the Morenic Hills and to the north by Mount San Bartolomeo. The hamlet of Barbarano is the only one located outside the gulf, but this extends along the coast at the foot of the mountain to the north, bordering Gardone Riviera. The climate is mild all year round and very comfortable. On wonderful spring days one can witness the triumph of nature in bloom, in summer the light breeze mitigates the high temperatures, autumn offers enchanting sunny days, and even in winter the temperatures remain pleasant. Natural beauties in the surroundings Garda Island, the largest island on the entire Lake Garda, belongs to the municipality of San Felice del Benaco. On the island is the luxurious palace of the Cavazza family, surrounded by beautiful Italian gardens and a rich forest composed of cypresses, acacias, and pines. Guided tours of this breathtaking island are organized with the Cavazza family between April and October. Feel the heavenly atmosphere of this small island on your skin. The Heller Botanical Garden and the Vittoriale degli Italiani are popular destinations for visitors from all over the world. The mountains above, by the way easily accessible on foot, offer breathtaking scenery. Garda's culinary arts Various are the excellent restaurants in the area but the most renowned are :Lido 84 (starred restaurant), Il Benaco, L'orologio, Le Rose and excellent pizzerias. Lake Garda sports Lake Garda is known for water sports, first and foremost sailing with the important regattas that take place every year in the Benaco waters, but also wakeboarding (water skiing), kitesurfing, windsurfing, canoeing, snorkeling, not forgetting the hottest water sport of the moment: stand up paddling (SUP). Thrill-seekers can experience the thrill of hang gliding and paragliding from the top of Mount Spino and Mount Baldo. Several golf courses are reachable within 10 km, Arzaga, Garda and Colombaro.
