Todo sobre la ubicación

Palma, capital of the Spanish island of Mallorca, is a city located in the western Mediterranean Sea. The immense cathedral of Santa Maria, a Gothic monument that was begun in the 13th century, dominates the skyline of the bay of Palma. The old town of Palma de Mallorca is a complex labyrinth of narrow streets of Arab origin in which it is still possible to feel the history of Mallorca at every step. Museums of all kinds, shows that are constantly renewed and stores of the best brands complete the offer of tourism and leisure that the capital offers. In addition to the hustle and bustle and the continuous activity typical of the best capitals, Palma has the added attraction of being located by the sea. The closest beaches to the capital are Illetas beach and El Arenal beach, two options that are as comfortable as they are beautiful. If you are one of those who believe that you do not know a place until you try its food, you are in luck, since in Palma you will find an infinity of restaurants of all kinds where you will be able to enjoy the delicious typical dishes of Mallorca.
