Une première impression

Breathing new life into a listed building not only requires a great deal of understanding for the history of the building and a special sensitivity for the redesign, it also requires the courage and inspiration for new ideas and impulses. This stately home, located in the picturesque municipality of Ora, presents itself as an extraordinary property that more than meets today's living requirements. The listed "Villa Auerheim" was originally built in 1864 and was recently extensively renovated over two years together with the Neumarkt architect Zeno Bampi, harmonizing the contemporary architecture with modern construction technology. The barrier-free property offers a net living area of approx. 105 m², which has been carefully designed to ensure maximum comfort and quality of life. An elegant entrance area leads into the apartment, past the practical daytime WC directly into the large living room of approx. 36 m² and additional eat-in kitchen of approx. 32 m² with the characteristic Tyrolean bay window. The living rooms are generously proportioned and offer plenty of space to feel at home. The sleeping area is equipped with a walk-in dressing room and an attractive bathroom. A useful utility room rounds off the space on offer. The bright, high-ceilinged rooms and attractive window elements contribute significantly to the feel-good ambience. Many historical elements, such as the terrazzo flooring in the staircase and entrance area and the elegant double doors, have been extensively and professionally renovated and now appear in new splendor. This apartment represents a rare opportunity to become a part of Auer's history, wrapped in the highest levels of comfort and stylish living. Ideal for buyers looking for a blend of traditional and modern, this property offers a unique chance to invest in a property with character, quality and future potential. A spacious vaulted cellar and an underground parking space are included as accessories with the apartment, the property is not subject to any social ties and is therefore also ideal as a vacation property.
